Hobbies & Interests

Alongside my work experience, I've developed a strong creative and technical skill set through personal projects in photography, video editing, and game design. I built and refined a photography portfolio using Adobe Photoshop and Lightroom, edited unique and entertaining video compilations with Premiere Pro and After Effects, and began developing a Unity game in C# — gaining valuable problem-solving, IT, and creative skills along the way. These projects reflect my ability to stay motivated, learn independently, and bring ideas to life.
